Success with variety of size and complexity of projects

Taylor'd to your scale and requirements

Taylor Fence Co. projects range from highly-secured US military bases to residential communities that must balance privacy with convenient access.

CONFIDENTIAL CONSTRUCTION

International contracting company, DPR Construction, needed fencing specialists on a confidential Data Center project at Buckley Air Force Base. They turned to Taylor Fence. Not only did Taylor have the qualifications and staffing to handle this secure military project, they also shined in their area of expertise.

“They definitely know their craft and know their specific scope of work. They brought a lot of intelligence regarding some of the more technical aspects of the fence.”

| KYLE COTTER, PROJECT ENGINEER, DPR CONSTRUCTION

MAKING GATED ACCESS EASY

Z&R Property Management is a family-owned business executing the management needs of residential properties and communities. When the board at Summer Glen Estates north of Colorado Springs voted to update faulty access gates from another provider, Taylor Fence had the complete solution. Not only did Taylor's team install a seamless new RFID gate access system the residents loved, they also made certain to explain the plan to the board, help the Z&R Property Management team get up and running with the RFID activation software, and quickly provide extra RFID tags when requested.

“It went off without a hitch on the day of implementation and the people are just thrilled with it.”
