Success with variety of size and complexity of projects

Taylor'd to your scale and requirements

Taylor Fence Co. projects range from highly-secured US military bases to residential communities that must balance privacy with convenient access.

MEETING MILITARY SECURITY DEMANDS

With contracts at Cheyenne Mountain, Fort Carson, Peterson, Schriever, and Buckley, Olgoonik Specialty Contractors needs subcontractors who meet the stringent security demands and protocols of the US Military. Taylor has been their choice for more than two dozen projects. From fencing to access control, gates and automation, Taylor has delivered for Olgoonik Specialty Contractors on time, on budget, meeting DOD regulations, paperwork, and demands.

“I give them a contract, they go get the work done, and they don't come back to us and say, this is harder than we thought, or, hey, we didn't understand what the scope was. They're like, no, we bid the drawings, we stand behind our proposal. We're going to do the work.”

| BRIAN JACKSON, PROGRAM MANAGER, OLGOONIK SPECIALTY CONTRACTORS

MAKING GATED ACCESS EASY

Z&R Property Management is a family-owned business executing the management needs of residential properties and communities. When the board at Summer Glen Estates north of Colorado Springs voted to update faulty access gates from another provider, Taylor Fence had the complete solution. Not only did Taylor's team install a seamless new RFID gate access system the residents loved, they also made certain to explain the plan to the board, help the Z&R Property Management team get up and running with the RFID activation software, and quickly provide extra RFID tags when requested.

“It went off without a hitch on the day of implementation and the people are just thrilled with it.”

| KERRY CANTRELL CMCA, COMMUNITY MANAGER, Z&R PROPERTY MANAGEMENT
